KNAPSACK FILLED WITH LIQUOR BAD FOR NEGRO

Had not Commodore Stamp, negro, wearing a soldier's uniform, carried a cargo of booze in his knapsack and a few days ago from Netherland, Mo., he might yet be as free as a bird. Commodore and his flock of quarts were observed by Police Chief Burnett, Simpson and Olive as he disembarked from a train at Grand Central station, thereby bringing a fine of $50 against him for violating the liquor law.

The story of the negro from Netherland and his mishap with the Memphis police was read in The News Scimitar by the Sheriff of Netherland, who was longing to catch Commodore, when he waited on a charge of robbery. Forthwith the sheriff wired Chief Burnett, of the Memphis police department, to hold the negro for him.

The negro informed Chief Burnett

The Easiest Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single hair and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

NEW SCHOOL TERMS BEGIN ON MONDAY

With the close of the fall semester Wednesday all city schools will be closed Thursday and Friday and the new term will begin next Monday. Teachers in the schools are at present busy compiling the report cards for their pupils who did not take examination, but will be graded by tests and term averages. This system was adopted on account of time lost during the epidemic of influenza.

LUMBER MEN FOR RETURNED HEROES

Square and fair dealing between the lumber merchants and the wholesalers and manufacturers was urged by W. J. Hall, of Fulton, Ky., president of the Southern Retail Lumber Dealers' association, in his address at the annual meeting which opened at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the Hotel Chicago. A number of delegates to the convention from Northwestern Kentucky, Mississippi and Arkansas, together with manufacturers were at the morning session to hear Mr. Hall's annual address. The visitors were welcomed by Mayor Monteverde.

Before the close of the first day's session resolutions which have been prepared by H. C. Canaday, of Mayfield, Ky., will be presented for discussion and a vote. The first of these resolutions proposes that "in recognition of the splendid services rendered and the glorious victories achieved by our soldier boys, we recommend that all retail lumber dealers give employment to our home-coming boys and assist them in every way possible in all honorable undertakings."

Mr. Canaday is a director of the association. Manufacturers are requested, in the second resolution to place 250 shingles in a bale instead of 200, as is now in practice.

Plans are made in the sixth for lien laws to afford greater protection to lumbermen and furnishers of building materials, and that all dealers in building materials, wholesalers and retail, get together to draft and secure passage of a just and equitable lien law in all the states.

Arbitration was urged by Mr. Hall for the settlement of controversies over lumber shipments. "There never was a car of lumber shipped when there was not room for controversy," he said. "Let us all deal fair and square with each other, get together, discuss these things and settle them to the satisfaction of both sides."

The sessions of the convention will continue until Friday at noon. Thursday evening the annual banquet will be held at the Hotel Chicago and following that the annual initiation of the Hoosiers.

ONE THOUSAND HOUSES NEEDED, SAY REALTORS

No Place to House People Who Want Homes—Many Living in Tents—Demand Also for Apartments.

Memphis is now facing the greatest congestion in housing conditions it has ever known, according to John M. Dean, president of the Memphis Real Estate association. There is scarcely a vacant building in the city fit for dwelling purposes, he says, except for transitory periods. The rental agencies are turning down scores of applications daily because they have no houses for rent on their lists.

One thousand new cottages and bungalows could be absorbed by the city within a very short time, Mr. Dean says. The greatest demand seems to be for four and five-room modern cottages. Quarters in apartment houses are also in strong demand.

Ernest Adams, manager of the South Memphis Land company, says that there are people living in tents in South Memphis, waiting to get houses. His company has 200 houses, every one of which is rented.

The reasons for the congestion are not far to seek, according to Mr. Dean. The scarcity of houses in Memphis began two years ago, he says, "and has been growing more acute all the time. There was very little building two years ago, and last year building operations practically stopped, so that the city has had no building expansion for several years."

"Since there were no big war industries located at Memphis, there was no building boom to subside immediately after the war and leave a surplus of houses."

"During the period of the war there was a tendency for people to double up, several families occupying one house. Now that the soldiers are returning these people are moving into homes of their own."

"Then, too, the natural growth of a city the size of Memphis is considerable. People are also moving into this city from the country and towns as well as many people coming here from the North. There has been a general expansion of cities and towns all over the country, but since Memphis had the surplus of houses to start with, the congestion is being felt here more than at many other places. Memphis has the most solid foundation of any city in this part of the South, and whatever happens is bound to be for the better."

Other real estate men concur in Mr. Dean's views as to the housing conditions here. Several real estate men said that houses in Memphis are at a conservative estimate of the number needed.

Architects say that there is considerable interest being taken in plans for new buildings, but that many prospective builders are holding back on account of the present high cost of all materials. They anticipate no decrease in the cost of labor and any decline in the price of materials, architects would be more than offset by the income from the property lost in waiting for prices to drop.

RUSSIAN VIOLINIST HAS VERY LARGE REPERTOIRE

The layman would be surprised if he were faced with the necessity of memorizing 10 or 15 pieces of poetry, and even the average fine musician finds it quite impossible to keep up a repertoire numbering more than 25 or 30 pieces that he can play at a moment's notice. How, then, is it possible for the big artist like Mischa Elman, who comes to the Goodwyn institute on Feb. 25 under the auspices of the Beethoven club, to retain 200 or more solos in their mind? There is, of course, no way to explain it.

Mischa Elman, for instance, has at his fingers' ends no less than 22 concertos, 88 sonatas, 70 concert numbers with either orchestra or piano, and 112 smaller pieces, all of which he can play at the drop of a name.

This represents his actual working material, the works that he can and does play offhand from memory.

MILLER RESPONSIBLE FOR BIONDI'S ARREST

Accompanied by Mrs. Miller and their little son, C. W. Miller, commissioner of police, early Wednesday night was riding in his automobile along McLeMORE avenue, when a touring car passing aroused his suspicions. Mr. Miller was confident it carried a cargo of ardent spirits, and gave chase.

For several blocks the cars sped along before Mr. Miller ranged alongside. He maneuvered his machine, so he explained to officers at the police headquarters, with the design of pinching the touring car against the curb and stopping it, but without success. Finally Mr. Miller figured that the driver of the suspected car was preparing to ram the commissioner's automobile. Then, for the safety of his wife and little son, Mr. Miller abandoned the chase, but not until he had procured the license number of the fleeing auto.

Deductions of the police resulted in E. Biondi, 28 years old, merchant of 282 Vance avenue, alleged driver of the car, being arrested by Patrolmen Moore and Herrington, charged with violating the liquor law. He arranged bond for his appearance Friday in police court.

Safe Home Treatment for Objectionable Hairs

(Boudoir Secrets.)

The electric needle is not required for the removal of hair or fuzz, for with the use of plain deodorant the most stubborn growth can be quickly banished. A paste is made with water and a little of the powder, then spread over the hairy surface. In about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple treatment not only removes the hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. Be sure you get genuine deodorant.
